FREE BOATING SEMINARS

Open to all - - club membership not required

- Sat Jan 14 Five Things You Need To Know About AIS and RADAR
Just a few of the reasons why you might want to equip your boat with this new technology. Plus, practical advice on using AIS and Radar, and how to benefit from the technology's optimal performance and safety potential. Seminar leaders: Duncan Nevard, of Intrepid Marine Electronics, and Captain Paul Adelberg ("Paul's Hardware").
- Sat Feb 4 Need A Boat Survey? Who ? What ? Why ? And, How ?
So, you're about to buy a boat but . . . now you're advised to hire a Marine Surveyor. Questions: Why do I need a surveyor? How do I find and evaluate a surveyor? What will the surveyor report about the boat? Good value or not? Pig in a poke? Safety issues? Answers, heads-up issues, and more by Bruce S. Patterson, SAMS, ABYC, who heads Coastwise Marine Surveyors in Stamford.
- Sat Feb 25 How To Cope With Medical Emergencies At Sea
Les Krasnogor, MD, explains how to recognize, stabilize, and manage hypothermia, heat stroke, puncture wounds, lacerations, burns, heart attacks, choking, and fractures/sprains/strains. . . . until the patient can be transferred to medical services ashore. It ain't just "first aid," and it's not for the squeamish!
- Sat March 3 Stamford Harbor: Update and Future Considerations
Harbormaster Mike Taylor, Chairman Ray Redniss and other members of the Harbor Management Commission report on their efforts to optimize waterfront and harbor uses for recreational, residential, industrial, and commercial purposes, without environmental compromise.

Admission is free. All programs begin at 1000.
